So you're looking for a team-building event that's not like most others?

We've got you!

- ✓ Learn from a pastry chef.
- ✓ Bake some deliciousness.
- ✓ Spread some kindness.
- ✓ Have a great time.

what is it tho?!

This is a fun team-building event for up to 10 people, with one of Millennium's clever pastry chefs guiding you through some delicious recipes.

There will be a couple of recipes to bake with all the ingredients and tools ready to go. You can decide whether this will be a mini team challenge or one for the whole group to complete together.

While the treats are baking, you can relax with some snacks and drinks – you might like to discuss how to encourage small acts of everyday kindness in your workplace.

Once the baking is ready, you'll quality check it and then pack it up to be delivered to one of Good Bitches Baking's recipient organisations. You can decorate the boxes and include a note from your team on the back of our ingredients flyer to personalise the treats a little.

a lil bonus

If you also need to have a more formal meeting, the team at Millennium will lend you a beautiful meeting spaces + a light lunch at no extra cost!
